

Write Those Memoirs Down!

Wrd Ricker

Ward Ricker

E A E

Oh, you be-lieve the past is set and that it can't be changed.
The past is an a - mor-phous thing with noth - ing set in stone.
Yes, you re-mem-ber well the past. You've such a mem - o - ry.
Re - al - i - ty is what you make it. This you've al - ways known.

4 E A E

A - ny - one who thinks dif - ferent - ly sure - ly is de - ranged. If Tell the world the way it was, that ver - sion all your own. Yes,
Noth - ing you say pos - sib - ly could with facts dis - a - gree. Yes,
As you write down your part you will strike a no - ble tone. No some - one said they'd changed the past you would judge them a clown.

6 E A E

your in - ter - pre - ta - tion, now, that's the im - por - tant thing.
ev - ery word that you write down, it's just the gos - pel truth.
need to the whole truth be bound. You're free to im - pro - vise.

8 A E B7 E E

You'll see how ea - sy it is when you write your mem - oirs down!
Your own ver - sion of the facts it just has such a nice ring.
An - y - one who dis - a gree, well, they are just so un - couth.
An - y - one who ar - gues, they just spout a pack of lies.

11

A E A E A

Write those mem-oirs down! Write those mem-oirs down! You can do it. Just get to it.

14

B E A E A

Do not fret or frown. Write those memoirs down! Write those mem-oirs down!

17

E A B

Don't de-bate it. Be cre - a - tive. Write those mem - oirs down!